SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT.
"The greatest factor in the life of any community, is its boys and girls; and the future of the community may be reckoned according as interest is taken in child life. Nurtured and trained with care and affection it has its possibility of reaching its highest pinnacle; treated with indifference or neglect it is almost certainly fore-doomed to prodigal wastefulness of its higher powers. And the community profits or suffers proportionately as it takes interest in its child life."

These words, taken from a recent issue of the Kershaw Era, are heartily commended to the serious consideration of Chesterfield School District.

Chesterfield is in need of improvements along several lines, but there is no other need so urgent as improved school facilities.

We know there is a strong sentiment in favor of this particular improvement. Many people have voluntarily spoken to the editor of The Advertiser about this particular need and have expressed a willingness to share in the expense of the necessary improvements.

We believe that a mass meeting to consider measures to remedy the present conditions will meet with a hearty response by the people of Chesterfield School District.

A SONG OF TRIUMPH
By Angela Morgan, in New York Evening Mail.

Work!
Thank God for the might of it, The ardor, the urge, the delight of it—Work that springs from the heart's desire, Setting the brain and the soul on fire—Oh, what is so good as the heat of it,
And what is so glad as the beat of it,
And what is so kind as the stern command, Challenging brain and heart and hand?

Work!
Thank God for the pride of it,
For the beautiful, conquering tide of it, Sweeping the life in its furious flood, Thrilling the arteries, cleansing the blood, Mastering stupor and dull despair, Moving the dreamer to do and dare, Oh, what is so good as the urge of it,
And what is so glad as the surge of it,
And what is so strong as the summons deep, Rousing the porpid soul from sleep?

Work!
Thank God for the pace of it,
For the terrible, keen, swift race of it, Fiery steeds in full control, Nostrils quiver to greet the goal.
Work, the power that drives behind, Guiding the purposes, taming the mind, Holding the runaway wishes back, Reigning the will to one steady track, Speeding the energies faster, faster, Triumphing over disaster.
Oh, what is so good as the pain of it,
And what is so good as the gain of it?
And what is so kind as the cruel goal, Forcing us on through the rugged road?

Work!
Thank God for the swing of it,
For the clamoring, hammering, ring of it, Passion of labor daily hurled On the mighty anvils of the world.
Oh, what is so fierce as the flame of it?
And what is so huge as the aim of it?
Thundering on through death and doubt, Calling the plan of the Maker out, Work, the Titan; Work, the friend, Shaking the earth to a glorious end, Draining the swamps and blasting the hills, Doing whatever the Spirit will—Rending a continent apart, To answer the dream of the Master heart, Thank God for a world where none may shrink—Thank God for the splendor of work!

CAN THIS BE GEORGIA?
Georgia is a prohibition State alright, but here is what happened there recently, according to the Atlanta Constitution.

A South Georgia matron threw into her back yard a can of spoiled branded peaches.

When she went back that evening to feed the chickens she found seven old hens outrageously drunk, three roosters down and out, and a number of pullets and cockerels carrying on in a manner obnoxious to any well-raised fowl. The chickens had gotten to the fruit and not a sober one was to be found in the chicken yard.

In the spring of 1915 we bought newspaper at $49 per ton. In January, 1916, we got it for $53 per ton.
It is now quoted at $130 per ton, and we have to wait for the factories to fill the orders when they can.—Dillon Herald.

PARKER ON WILSON
Hon. John M. Parker, who was nominated by the Progressives for vice-president, said in a recent speech:

"I am not a Democrat, but believe the thanks of this nation are due to Woodrow Wilson for what he has accomplished in the shape of progressive legislation that has brought untold millions, happiness and prosperity to our people."

Mr. Parker has a level head. He can't swallow that man Hughes.

SPEAKING FOR BUNCOMB
We did not think anybody would go back on Buncomb County, North Carolina. Ever since the editor of The Advertiser was a young child congressmen have been making speeches to which none of the other congressmen were paying much attention because those speeches were for home consumption—they were for Bun-comb. No county has ever been so noted or so highly honored as Bun-comb county. The good old Congressional Record has been for years filled with eloquent speeches that went entirely over the heads of tired and sleepy congressmen but landed in Buncomb county and aroused the natives to the highest pitch of enthusiasm.

"Our congressman is showing them fellers in Washington that they can't fool with us. John Doe is standing by us boys. We must stand by him.
We must elect him again and show them Washington fellers that we will have our rights."

And John Doe goes back, and toward the close of his next term he makes more speeches for Buncomb.

But nevertheless here comes a press dispatch to the effect that Buncomb county is kicking and kicking lively.

And here is the trouble with Bun-comb. When the Federal relief funds for fixing roads that the floods had destroyed was being distributed, Buncomb, N. C., did not get a cent.
That county wants to open a highway through Hickory Nut Gap in order that the farmers of Bat Cave section may be able to get to market.

Now if the congressman from Bun-comb does not get busy and see that Bat Cave and Hickory Nut Gap get that highway he may as well prepare to stay at home next session.

But we believe that Buncomb will get what it wants alright.

Editorial Elysium.
"A fellow dropped into the office the other day and ordered the paper, and we were pleased," writes a brother editor. "Said it was a good paper and we were glad. Said it was more than worth the money to any man of intelligence, and we were tickled. Said it was the mainstay of the town, and we were super tickled. Said it was the greatest booster and developer in this whole community, and we yelled with much joy. Paid for his paper, and—we slid gently to the floor in blissful unconsciousness. Nature had reached its limit."

A LETTER FROM THE BORDER
Co. I, 1st S. C. Inf.
El Paso, Tex., Oct. 15, 1916.

We returned to our good old camp last Friday evening after our long hike and we certainly were glad to get back. It seemed like coming home.

We stood the trip alright and broke the record. Not a man gave out from old South Carolina. Don't you think that was pretty good? * * *

I have no news of importance. Am well and feeling as good as I ever did I don't know when we are coming home but think it will not be long.
* * * You may continue to write me at the same address as our mail is promptly forwarded to us wherever we may go.

Write soon to your brother on the Mexico Border.

received by Lee Melton's brother field County.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell."

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it.

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlastingly tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.

Jack's Corner
By Jack Horner
RURAL CREDITS

The small farmer can hail the advent of Rural Credits as an epoch in the history of agriculture. This is a matter of great importance to the tenant if he will only avail himself of the opportunity it offers him in buying for himself a home.

Congress in passing this law so fixed it that as small an amount as $100 could be borrowed. This will enable people of humble means to borrow only in such amounts necessary to the purchase of a few acres for a little home.

That community that has the largest number of small home owners is the most prosperous community and this law will encourage the idea of home owned by the man who inhabits the home.

No other citizen is so fit for citizenship as the home owner. He is the bone and sinew of this great republic of ours; upon him depends the rise and progress of the nation. He is the citizen that lends cast to all material wealth. He is the citizen to whom we look for deliverance in times of disquiet. He is the citizen upon whom both school and church depends.

To encourage home making and home building would be a step toward a high citizenship; a citizenship that would bind itself together to inspire high ideals, whose ideals would be found in the principles so loved and cherished by our fathers who handed this great country to us as our birthright.

To depart from what was the ideal of those who purchased this land with the price of blood is to degenerate.
They taught that all men were born equal. Some may by pluck and diligence outstrip others in things material, yet there can be but one test of true American citizenship and that is to be loyal to American institutions and American standards.

There can be but two classes of society, namely, those who believe in right and pursue it, and those who believe in wrong and do it. We are all wealth producers.

No man can have the right conception of getting wealth as long as he violates the tenth commandment, but he rings true when he endeavors to produce wealth peculiarly his own, without infringing upon the rights of those about him.

The few last paragraphs were put in out of line to touch the man who sits with his weather eye out to get his neighbor's house, instead of preserving to him his rights to own his own home.

"NO ILLITERACY BY 1920"

"No illiteracy in South Carolina by 1920" is the title of an appeal sent out by the South Carolina Rural School Improvement Association, urging that November 15 be set aside as "illiteracy day" in South Carolina.
The appeal asks that on that day every teacher and every advanced pupil teach at least one illiterate, and ministers are asked to pray for the wiping out of illiteracy on November 15.

Request is made of newspapers to give publicity to the movement for the attack on illiteracy on November 15th.

Governor Manning has the circular in his office and may urge that November 15 be set aside for a special drive on illiteracy.

The circular referred to tells that last year there were eighteen States with night schools, which is doing so much to wipe out illiteracy, and South Carolina is one of them. In this State there were 5,000 enrolled in the schools, which were conducted in ninety-eight out of the 166 mill villages in the State. It points out that 40,000 white adult men have been taught to read and write in Kentucky since the night school work was begun in that State in 1900.

The federal census of 1910 placed States which had more than 25 per cent of illiteracy in a black area and South Carolina was one of the two States thus designated. The idea is to get out of this position and be at the head of the States in 1920 with all illiteracy wiped out.

incidentally aid your County paper to make some needed improvements.

Felt Like She Was on Fire, Says Mrs. Burgess

GREENVILLE WOMAN TELLS HOW RELATIVE'S GOOD FORTUNE AIDED HER

HOPES TO AID OTHERS

Though She Had Become a Physical Wreck, Her Health Was Restored.

"It is the grandest medicine there ever was."

That's Tanlac, as Mrs. Mamie Burgess, of No. 18 Saco St., Greenville, described it.

"I was a physical wreck when I began taking it, but three bottles made me a well and strong woman," added Mrs. Burgess. The endorsement she gave of Tanlac is strong and sincere, and she gave it because she said, "I hope my giving this statement will help some other woman to find relief in Tanlac like it gave me."

"Mrs. Burgess said she took Tanlac because it had helped a relative of hers, Mrs. Lillie Burgess, so much.
The latter mentioned Mrs. Burgess also had given an endorsement of Tanalac for publication. Mrs. Mamie Burgess' endorsement follows:

"I suffered with indigestion so badly that I just could not eat anything at any time hardly, and especially at supper, for I would almost choke to death. It seemed that everything I ate lodged in my throat and almost choked me and brought on smothering spells. I was very nervous and could not sleep. I had no desire to eat and just had to force down what I did eat.

"After meals my stomach felt like it had fire in it. I belched a great deal and my stomach always was sour. I was troubled a lot with heartburn, too. I had no strength nor energy, and I could hardly do my housework. I suffered a great deal with dizzy headaches, and my liver was out of order.

"A relative of mine, Mrs. Lillie Burgess, had been helped so much by taking Tanlac that I decided to take it, too. The Tanlac drove away all my stomach trouble and gave me a great appetite. I can now eat anything I want and it does not hurt me.
My nerves were quieted, and the medicine built up my system so much that I got to where I slept fine every night. It regulated my liver and my system generally and banished those headaches.

"Tanalac increased my strength a lot and made me feel fine in every way. I am a well woman, I think.

"I now recommend Tanlac because it is the grandest medicine there ever was. It sure is fine. I was a physical wreck when I began taking Tanlac, but three bottles made me a well and strong woman."
